COOLIDGE IS NOW CONCEDED NORTH DAKOTA

INDEPENDENT LEADERS CANNOT OVERCOME LEAD

WITH 1951 PRECINCTS OUT OF 2160, COOLIDGE HAS 9372 LEAD

COOLIDGE VICTORY SPECTACULAR, NON-PARTISANS CARRYING EVERYTHING ELSE

(By United Press)
 Fargo, N. D., Nov. 7.—President Coolidge was conceded North Dakota early today as independent leaders lost hope of overcoming his lead.

With 1951 precincts counted out of 2160 in the state, Coolidge had 91,331 and LaFollette 81,969, a lead for the president of 9,372. Each additional precinct reporting cut down Coolidge's lead but it will be impossible for LaFollette to half overcome it, statisticians declare.

L. B. Hanna, Coolidge manager in North Dakota, estimated today Coolidge's plurality will be 5,000. Figures at an early hour seemed to bear him out.

The Coolidge victory in North Dakota was spectacular, inasmuch as the non-partisans won virtually everything else.

Arthur G. Sorlie, non-partisan, was elected governor by about 10,000 over Halvor Halvorson, anti-league fusion candidate.

Non-partisans regained control of the legislature and will likely initiate a new program of industrial activities.

The independents conceded the non-partisans 62 of the 113 seats in the house of the legislature, with three more likely to go to the league. A working majority in the house is 57.

In the senate non-partisans have 24 and the independents 24 seats, with one doubtful. The doubtful will likely go to the non-partisans, giving them control of the upper house also.

The non-partisans lost control of the senate in 1919 and lost the house by two votes two years ago.

COOLIDGE ELECTORAL VOTE RISES TO 382.

With today's returns showing North Dakota safely in the Coolidge column and New Mexico apparently swung in at the last minute to President Coolidge, the latter's victory in Tuesday's election has grown and the relative position of the three candidates in the electoral college now is:

Coolidge, 382; Davis, 163; LaFollette, 13.

By this Mr. Coolidge is seen to have come within 22 votes of the electoral college accorded Warren G. Harding, whose vote was 404, four years ago.

Senator Brookhart's apparent narrow victory in Iowa and Senator Magnus Johnson's defeat in Minnesota means the party's standing in the senate will be, as forecast by the United Press:

Republicans, 55; democrats, 40; farmer-labor, 1.

The republican figure is based on the virtual certainty that when Connecticut holds its special election for a successor to the late Senator Brundage the winner will be a republican.

Among the republicans' 55 votes, however, are 6 designated as "insurgent bloc" senators, so while the republicans should have no difficulty whatever in organizing the senate there will be much legislation on which their majority will be dangerously scanty.

SEN. LODGE'S CONDITION IS SAID UNCHANGED

AGED SOLON LAPSES INTO UNCONSCIOUSNESS, FOLLOWING STROKE

HAS TAKEN LITTLE OR NO NOURISHMENT SINCE WEDNESDAY

(By United Press)
 Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 7.—"Unchanged," was the report on the condition of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge at 7:30 a. m. today, 43½ hours after he had lapsed into unconsciousness from a stroke at Charlesgate hospital here.

The 74-year old Massachusetts senator lingered at the point of death with little or no nourishment of any form since he was stricken Wednesday noon. He has amazed physicians by his remarkable vitality throughout last night. With physicians in constant attendance at the bedside and with all immediate members of the family within a moment's call, Senator Lodge, still in a state of coma, continued his fight against what attending physicians frankly admit are overwhelming odds.

Heart-Broken Woman Seeks 'Long, Long Sleep'; Note Blames Lover

Chicago, Nov. 7.—County hospital physicians today battled the effects of 50 grains of a strong nerve sedative taken by Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, 37, of Milwaukee to produce a "long, long sleep in the land of mystery."

Tired of wandering, Mrs. Nelson took veronal in an attempt to commit suicide after efforts to find work here and at Cleveland failed.

In a note she said, "am a wanderer on the face of the earth and I am tired of it all—tired of the noise and the crowds—tired of the mob."

A broken heart was revealed in another note which said:

"Sometimes I wonder when evening comes and the day's work is over and as you sit and smoke if you give a thought to the woman you made a wanderer."

An identification card among her meager belongings said: "Please notify H. I. Nance, 216 Sherman ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., in case of accident."

A Joke of Long Ago

(By United Press)
 Saranac Lake, N. Y., Nov. 7.—When an old house was being torn down recently in the northern part of Franklin county, a note was found beneath the cap of a newell post. The note read:

"I put this cap on Jan. 3rd, 1806. Bad luck to the man that takes it off, especially if he is a woman."

(Signed) "Edward P. Deming."
 "P. S.—It snows like sin."
 Traditions of that section of the North Country are to the effect the man who wrote the note more than a century ago was considered a great joker in his day and age.

FIRST SNOWFALL OF THE WINTER BLANKETS STATE

COLD NORTH WIND COMES DOWN FROM CANADA

TEMPERATURE STAYS WELL BELOW FREEZING POINT

(By United Press)
 St. Paul, Nov. 7.—The first snowfall of the winter blanketed the upper Mississippi Valley and the valley of the Red River of the North last night and today.

A cold north wind came down from Canada, bringing three inches of snow here and a temperature well below freezing.

Reports from the Canadian Northwest said it was six below there.

The snowfall was general throughout the upper Mississippi Valley. It diminished to a flurry after daylight and there were prospects of skies clearing.

It was an unexpected storm, November up to Monday being clear like early September. Tuesday and Wednesday were mostly clear and snappy and Thursday brought the first real hint of winter. It was cloudy and cold.

Agrarians declared the earth needs much more moisture than today's slight fall will bring and hoped for repeated snows and thaws.

MRS. HARDING IS GAINING STRENGTH

WAS ABLE TO TAKE SOME NOURISHMENT TODAY

(By United Press)
 Marion, O., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, continues to gain strength and took some nourishment for the first time today, Dr. Carl E. Sawyer's statement on the condition of the late president's widow said today.

"Mrs. Harding rested comfortably last night and is improved this morning," the statement said.

"Her strength is greater and she is able to take some nourishment."

"Complications that had arisen continued to subside."

CURZON SLATED FOR SIDETRACK

BALDWIN LIKELY TO PICK YOUNGER STATESMAN FOR FOREIGN MINISTER

London, Nov. 7.—The chief issue at stake as Stanley Baldwin completed a list of ministers was whether Marquis Curzon would occupy his customary post of foreign minister in a conservative cabinet, or be replaced by a younger, more liberal statesman.

The new prime minister was expected to announce his appointments late today and the usually well informed parliamentary correspondent of the Daily Telegraph said that Curzon had been sidetracked in favor of Austen Chamberlain.

The correspondent said that the new ministry would include:

Leader of the house of lords, Marquis Curzon.

Lord chancellor, Viscount Cave.

Foreign secretary, Austen Chamberlain.

Secretary for the colonies, Col. L. S. Amery.

Secretary of India, Lord Birkenhead.

Secretary of state for air, Sir Samuel Hoare.

First lord of the admiralty or minister for health, Sir William Joynson-Hicks.

FOREST FIRES SWEEP MOUNTAIN RANGES OF KENTUCKY

(By United Press)
 Irvine, Ky., Nov. 7.—Forest fires sweeping two mountain ranges near here were within half a mile of 700 large crude oil storage tanks on the outskirts of Irvine today.

Five hundred men are fighting the flames, which are said to have such headway that only heavy rains can stop their advance.

Seven homes outside the town have been destroyed.

Reports here stated forest fires have broken out in McLean, Lincoln, Cumberland and Monroe counties.

SOUND TEACHERS' PENSION SOUGHT

MINNESOTA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION URGES ADOPTION BY LEGISLATURE

ALSO SEEKS AN ADEQUATE RETIREMENT LAW ENACTED

(By United Press)
 St. Paul, Nov. 7.—The Minnesota Education association will make every effort to insure the adoption of a sound teachers' pension and retirement law by the 1925 legislative session.

A tenure bill "which will be fully just, both to employer and employee", a part time education law, and a law providing for county boards of education to administer county units for rural school education also are included in the legislative program for 1925, to which the association pledged itself in resolutions adopted by the association assembly in session here today.

In further resolutions the assembly went on record as favoring greater participation of teachers in the administrative affairs of schools, especially in the matter of curricula, branches of study for pupils and development of a general school policy.

"We believe it to be in keeping with democracy," the resolutions declared.

The assembly went on record as against war and favoring adoption of the twentieth amendment to the constitution.

R. B. McLean, president of the State Teachers College in Moorhead, won the presidency of the M. E. A. in one of the most closely contested elections in the history of the organization. Two ballots were taken on the presidency and three on the vice-presidency, Robert Ringdahl, teacher in the Roosevelt high school, Minneapolis, winning the latter office. W. G. Balcom, Rochester, and M. D. Sutton, Duluth, were candidates for the chair. MacLean succeeds J. P. Vaughan as president.

Members of the executive committee chosen today are M. W. Deputy, Bemidji; J. P. Vaughan, G. H. Sandberg, Crookston; J. C. Brown, St. Cloud; Anna Peterson, South St. Paul, and Katherine Leonard, Moorhead.

 Leader of the house of lords is considered a "tame" post for Marquis Curzon, who had much to do with building up a vigorous imperial policy during several terms as foreign secretary.

Correspondents who saw Curzon leaving an interview with Baldwin yesterday said the former seemed flustered and angry.

Meanwhile the busiest person in London was young Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of Ramsay MacDonald, who was superintending removal of her father's belongings from No. 10 Downing st., to their former home in Hempstead.

WRECK IN DARK ROUEN TUNNEL, 2 KILLED, 6 HURT

MANY AMERICANS AND BRITISH PASSENGERS ON TRAIN

LONDON EXPRESS DERAILED IN DEPTHS OF MILE LONG TUNNEL

(By United Press)
 Rouen, France, Nov. 7.—A wreck occurred in the pitch darkness of the mile-long tunnel near Rouen last night when the London Express, carrying Americans and many British from Paris to Havre, was derailed.

At least two persons were killed and six seriously injured. Walter W. Duranty, Moscow correspondent of the New York Times, had both legs broken.

Four cars of the express, including the diner, jumped the rails, while the boat train was roaring through the tunnel. Following the crash scenes of wildest confusion ensued in the darkness. While rescue workers were struggling with lanterns to get out the victims, a freight train thundered into the tunnel and smashed into the debris.

The darkness hindered rescue work. The tunnel is a little distance from Rouen. There was panic among survivors, and the full extent of the catastrophe could not be at first determined.

THREE STATES NOW FACE RAGING FOREST FIRES

SECTIONS OF KENTUCKY, INDIANA, OHIO TURN OUT TO FIGHT FLAMES

CRUDE OIL IN TANKS THREATENED NEAR IRVINE, KENTUCKY

(By United Press)
 Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Forest fires were raging in three states today.

Sections of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio are turning out to fight the flames which were adding hourly to the damages already reaching into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Several small towns were threatened in the vicinity of Irvine, Ky., where the fire is sweeping the timber land on two mountain ridges.

Five hundred volunteers were plowing fire guards around 15,500,000 gallons of crude oil in tanks at Irvine to check the advance of the flames, reported to be within half a mile of the oil.

Five hundred acres of timberland near Columbus, Ind., were in flames and 200 men were fighting further advances. Rains were reported subduing fires raging in the Hocking Valley, where coal operators were taking men from the mines to fight the flames. The danger was still considered great in this region.

FOREST LAND ON FIRE NEAR MT. VERNON.

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Nov. 7.—Several thousand acres of forest land along the Big Muddy river 10 miles south of here were burning today, according to reports here.

FARMERS FIGHT FIRES IN ILLINOIS.

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 7.—While farmers were fighting desperately last night to stay the progress of forest fires in the township of Clarino, Wis., just across the Illinois state line, a heavy rain storm, the first in three weeks, broke and within half an hour the flames had been checked.

Before the rain came farmers had plowed furrows around four acres of timberland in which the fire was raging and had cut down many trees that were ablaze.

It is believed hunters who made a "smudge" to smoke a squirrel out of its nest caused the blaze.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY STUDENTS FIGHT FIRES.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 7.—Three hundred students of the Indiana University were sent today by order of university boards to aid in fighting fires in Brown county. The fire is sweeping a path 15 miles wide and several miles long, destroying timber, fences and barns, according to reports received here.

JOHNSON BLAMES HIS DEFEAT ON LA FOLLETTE

TREMENDOUS NATIONAL CAMPAIGN PUT UP AGAINST LA FOLLETTE

JOHNSON, HOWEVER, CARRIED THE FARMER-LABOR STATE TICKET

(By United Press)

Kimball, Minn., Nov. 7.—"Now that he lost out, I wish he didn't have to go to Washington this winter," Mrs. Magnus Johnson said today anent her senator husband's defeat. "I don't care much about it down there. It's too lonesome away from the children—and I do like the farm. We have had some pretty hard times on the farm. The salary helped some, but, of course, that isn't everything."

Mrs. Johnson didn't know whether she wants her husband to continue in politics. "That will be up to him," she said.

CAUGHT IN THE COOLIDGE LANDSLIDE

St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Caught in the Coolidge landslide, Magnus Johnson prepared today for a spectacular windup of his term as junior senator from Minnesota.

Thomas D. Schall, republican blind congressman from Minneapolis, will take Johnson's seat in the Senate after the fourth of March.

Senator Johnson blamed his defeat to Senator LaFollette.

"It would have been a different story if it hadn't been for the tremendous national campaign they put up against LaFollette," Johnson said. "The returns show that I would have won out. I carried the farmer-labor state ticket and led all the way."

"It don't make so much difference to me. I was elected a year and a half ago. I left it to the people and they decided."

"I will go down to Washington for three months' session in December, prepared to do my duty as I see it, and no one will tell me what to do. The politicians aren't going to have anything to do with it."

"I am just as well satisfied to get out. I like to be down on the farm with the boys. I will be in Washington this winter and I'll go back to the farm next spring. I like the farm work. It makes me feel good, and I like to be home with my family. Maybe something else will come up—more politics or something—I don't know. Won't be able to tell what I am going to do until the time comes."

JOHNSON WILL NOT CONTEST ELECTION

Senator Johnson does not contemplate contesting the senatorial election, he said today, although Schall's plurality now is only 8993, with 90 precincts still to be heard from out of 3607 in the state. The vote stood: Schall, 379,714; Johnson, 371,621.

CANVASSING BOARD OF STATE MEETS ON NOVEMBER 25

(By United Press)
 St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Mike Holm today announced the personnel of the state canvassing board which will meet November 25.

The members will be Supreme Court Justices J. H. Quinn and Homer Dibel and Judges G. M. Orr, St. Paul, and Mathias Baldwin, Minneapolis. Holm will act as secretary of the board.

Holm announced today he would ask the legislature to advance the day for the canvassing board to meet after the fall election. At present it is two weeks between the meeting of the county canvassing boards and the state canvassing board. On the June primary the state canvassing board meets 10 days after the primary.

The non-partisans lost control of the senate in 1919 and lost the house by two votes two years ago.

COOLIDGE ELECTORAL VOTE RISES TO 382.

With today's returns showing North Dakota safely in the Coolidge column and New Mexico apparently swung in at the last minute to President Coolidge, the latter's victory in Tuesday's election has grown and the relative position of the three candidates in the electoral college now is:

Five hundred volunteers were plowing fire guards around 15,500,000 gallons of crude oil in tanks at Irvine to check the advance of the flames, reported to be within half a mile of the oil.

Five hundred acres of timberland near Columbus, Ind., were in flames and 200 men were fighting further advances. Rains were reported subduing fires raging in the Hocking Valley, where coal operators were taking men from the mines to fight the flames. The danger was still considered great in this region.

FOREST LAND ON FIRE NEAR MT. VERNON.

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Nov. 7.—Several thousand acres of forest land along the Big Muddy river 10 miles south of here were burning today, according to reports here.

FARMERS FIGHT FIRES IN ILLINOIS.

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 7.—While farmers were fighting desperately last night to stay the progress of forest fires in the township of Clarino, Wis., just across the Illinois state line, a heavy rain storm, the first in three weeks, broke and within an hour the flames had been checked.

Before the rain came farmers had plowed furrows around four acres of timberland in which the fire was raging and had cut down many trees that were ablaze.

It is belived hunters who made a "smudge" to smoke a squirrel out of its nest caused the blaze.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY STUDENTS FIGHT FIRES.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 7.—Three hundred students of the Indiana University were sent today by order of university heads to aid in fighting fires in Brown county. The fire is sweeping a path 15 miles wide and several miles long, destroying timber, fences and barns, according to reports received here.

JOHNSON BLAMES HIS DEFEAT ON LA FOLLETTE

TREMENDOUS NATIONAL CAMPAIGN PUT UP AGAINST LA FOLLETTE

JOHNSON, HOWEVER, CARRIED THE FARMER-LABOR STATE TICKET

(By United Press)

Kimball, Minn., Nov. 7.—"Now that he lost out, I wish he didn't have to go to Washington this winter," Mrs. Magnus Johnson said today anent her senator husband's defeat. "I don't care much about it down there. It's too lonesome away from the children—and I do like the farm. We have had some pretty hard times on the farm. The salary helped some, but, of course, that isn't everything."

Mrs. Johnson didn't know whether she wants her husband to continue in politics. "That will be up to him," she said.

CAUGHT IN THE COOLIDGE LANDSLIDE

St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Caught in the Coolidge landslide, Magnus Johnson prepared today for a spectacular windup of his term as junior senator from Minnesota.

Thomas D. Schall, republican blind congressman from Minneapolis, will take Johnson's seat in the Senate after the fourth of March.

Senator Johnson blamed his defeat to Senator LaFollette.

"It would have been a different story if it hadn't been for the tremendous national campaign they put up against LaFollette," Johnson said. "The returns show that I would have won out. I carried the farmer-labor state ticket and led all the way."

"It don't make so much difference to me. I was elected a year and a half ago. I left it to the people and they decided."

"I will go down to Washington for three months' session in December, prepared to do my duty as I see it, and no one will tell me what to do. The politicians aren't going to have anything to do with it."

"I am just as well satisfied to get out. I like to be down on the farm with the boys. I will be in Washington this winter and I'll go back to the farm next spring. I like the farm work. It makes me feel good, and I like to be home with my family. Maybe something else will come up—more politics or something—I don't know. Won't be able to tell what I am going to do until the time comes."

JOHNSON WILL NOT CONTEST ELECTION

Senator Johnson does not contemplate contesting the senatorial election, he said today, although Schall's plurality now is only 893, with 90 precincts still to be heard from out of 3607 in the state. The vote stood: Schall, 379,714; Johnson, 371,621.

CANVASSING BOARD OF STATE MEETS ON NOVEMBER 25

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Mike Holm today announced the personnel of the state canvassing board which will meet November 25.

The members will be Supreme Court Justices J. H. Quinn and Homer Dibel and Judges G. M. Orr, St. Paul, and Mathias Baldwin, Minneapolis. Holm will act as secretary of the board.

Holm announced today he would ask the legislature to advance the day for the canvassing board to meet after the fall election. At present it is two weeks between the meeting of the county canvassing boards and the state canvassing board. On the June primary the state canvassing board meets 10 days after the primary.

She had but one want ---a New Winter Wrap

The winter wraps, which we are now showing, feature the varied charm of the mode expressed in creations of distinct originality.

Fashioned from soft, suede-finished fabrics or the velvety, deep-piled materials that are always in feminine favor. Trimmed, too, with the best fur pelts which the season offers.

The Pretty Printzess Coats, the Pretty Irene Castle Coats are shown only at Our Smart Shop.

Coat Frock Makes Bow for Approval

Simple One-Piece Garments of Popular Materials Are Charming.

Length of skirt having been settled, the real novelties in the season's styles are significant, declares a fashion writer in the New York Times. The sleeve is long, down to the wrist in the new wool, crepe and silk frocks for the open, and for afternoon dress in even the georgettes, chiffons and voiles. A pretty model half covering the hand is especially popular, a subtly engaging fancy, and most becoming.

The long sleeve has been accepted wholly, and its vogue is now firmly established. It eclipses, almost eliminates, the kimono sleeve, and quite logically tightens the lines of the bodice, making a definite, fitted shoulder.

There are variants with a full-plaited "peasant" sleeve set in the arm seam, or a snug-fitting sleeve at the top, developing into a bishop shape below the elbow. But the point emphasized is the length; it will cover the arm from shoulder to wrist.

This, in the plain model, has brought into fashion the collar and cuff sets that add a dainty note to the most commonplace frock. A neck is more slender and hands are more fair when sheer batiste, net or lace in soft, creamy tint touches them at the border lines of bodice and sleeve. The simpler one-piece frocks of cloth, crepe or the many new stuffs have a demure, Quaker-like appearance that is altogether charming.

In the more elaborate gowns, such as the brocades, the beautiful new embossed velvets, the silk reps and the satins, sleeves of chiffon, full and long, trimmed with fur or flowing stuff of cloud-like texture, give an impression of elegance.

With both the skirt and the sleeve—the two conspicuous novelties of the season that have the approval by the prominent couturiers—the gown is the thing about which every one is most keen. Beginning the day, it is the coat frock, the tunic, the tailored suit. Notwithstanding the craze for the easy-going slip-on, the one-piece or the two-piece frocks, many fashionable women cling to the conventional tailored coat and skirt, with an over-blouse of any one of the new models in daintiest lingerie effect, in crepe or georgette; in something of needlework, smocked or whatever.

The skirt of this type of suit is invariably plain, narrow, tube-like and short. The coat must be straight, or, following some of the latest designs from Paris, it must have an effect of being ever so slightly pinched in, with a rather high-waist fastening in front, matching the prevailing mode in men's fashionable daytime attire. Among all the later styles nothing is quite so modish, in a conservative sense, as a smart, perfectly-cut tailored suit, and the blouse to be worn with it may be the loveliest, finest thing in the ensemble.

New Winter Coats Are Longer; More Graceful

Truly the designers and manufacturers of fur coats have more than surpassed their previous efforts. Skins are handled with consummate skill and lines reveal a grace undreamed of a decade ago when a fur coat was an affair of warmth and comfort but of no special beauty of line. While a number of jackets are shown, the coat of longer length predominates both in the less costly furs as well as the most luxurious. A feature of the new coats is the sleeve, which frequently is bell-shaped or shaped or formed so that there is a fullness from the elbows to the wrists. Seal, both Alaska and Hudson; black caracul, gray squirrel and Viatka squirrel, mole and leopard are used for daytime coats, while for those of sports type muskrat, raccoon and opossum are chosen. Ermine is for evening and when bordered with bands of white fox is ravishingly beautiful.

A Gripping Scene from "Held to Answer"

"Held to Answer" Coming as a Metro Photodrama

A story decidedly out of the ordinary is dramatically told in "Held to Answer," the Metro Premier feature which is coming to the New Park on Saturday and Sunday.

Peter Clark MacFarlane, one of the best-known authors of the day, has never written anything more thrilling or exciting than this drama of a fighting minister, an actress and the criminal courts. He has taken as his central character a young actor who deserts the stage to preach the Word of God and serve humanity in a small Western city. An actress friend follows him and through jealousy, manages to have him accused of theft.

"Breathless Moment," Crook Comedy Drama at Lyceum

If William Desmond hadn't been a hero he'd probably have remained a crook, and spoiled the best story he has given the screen in many years. The answer to this puzzle may be found in "The Breathless Moment," his new Universal attraction, now playing at the Lyceum Theatre.

Charlotte Merriam, former juvenile picture-comedy star, now a popular ingenue, is the feminine lead in "The Breathless Moment," a crook comedy. This attraction was filmed from an original story by Raymond L. Schrock and Harvey Gates, and directed by Robert Hill.

New Flapper Picture Promises Sensations

"Daughters of Today" which comes to the Lyceum Theatre for a two day engagement beginning next Sunday, is a picture that promises to be the subject of much discussion locally, if one is to judge from the reports from other cities in which it has played. While it is strictly speaking a straightforward drama of life among the members of the young jazzy set, it nevertheless has proven to be a controversial subject among a wide number of people in all walks of life. Perhaps this is because it has a subject that strikes at the heart of every American home today and asks pertinently the questions: "What's your daughter doing? What is the company she keeps and who is to blame when tragedy stalks her footsteps of indiscretion?"

Rollin S. Sturgeon, the producer and director of the picture, has sought, it is said, in the story to depict a very vital phase of life and has recorded in this dramatic narrative the unconventional and often daring adventures of youth that has taken the reins of liberty in its own hands and has sought pleasure and diversion along a reckless path. The wild abandon of youth has been a much discussed theme among educators, parents and clergy of late and it has remained for Mr. Sturgeon to come forward with the visual document of this much mooted question.

"Daughters of Today" pictures a group in a large college city and tells in a realistic manner the humorous, dramatic and sometimes pathetic episodes that mark their path as they race from one wild adventure to another.

A splendid cast headed by Patsy Ruth Miller, Ralph Graves, Philo McCullough, Zazu Pitts, Phillips Smalley and Edna Murphy enact the principal roles, in addition to which there is an ensemble of pretty girls who are effectively seen in the production.

Shoot Galley Slave's Watch From Cannon

During the filming of several scenes aboard the Moorish gallease used in Frank Lloyd's production of "The Sea Hawk," a First National picture, coming to the New Park soon, one of the extras playing the part of a galley slave had a wrist watch and some money, which he could not carry into a scene. He hid them in the mouth of one of the brass muzzle loading cannon pointed out of a port hole directly above the rower's bench on which he sat. Shortly after the gallease attacked a large English frigate in a scene, and the cannon rained watch springs, glass and silver pieces upon the waters of

Bebe Daniels Discovers Perfect Reducing Process

Attention all ye women who are unpleasingly plump! Bebe Daniels, noted Paramount screen star, has made a discovery that will interest you. She has found the best reducing process ever brought to the attention of a long-suffering, flesh-laden female. No beauty muds, bath salts or massages are necessary. Just go to Nassau in the month of June and work!

When Miss Daniels, Richard Dix and a company of Paramount players returned to New York from the Bahama Islands where scenes were made for "Sinners in Heaven," a new Allan Crosland production it was discovered that every one had lost weight.

Miss Daniels was ten pounds lighter, Dix had dropped fifteen pounds, Allan Crosland had lost twelve pounds and other members of the company lost from five to twenty pounds in weight. This picture is showing at the New Park tonight.

THE CITY CHARTER AMENDMENTS

OF the city charter amendments, No. 1 carried, according to unofficial figures received. A three-fifths majority is required to carry. This amendment will simplify the issuing certificates of indebtedness and will permit the council to do considerable paving next summer, if there is a demand for it.

It is understood that the present council would like to complete Fourth street from the court house to Kingwood street, as there has been a demand owing to the prominence of the new court house.

There is also demand for paving of the streets about Gregory park. Other wards have indicated the desire for paving. As petitions are considered in the order in which they are filed, it may be to the interest of those who desire paving to get their petitions before the council at an early date.

This amendment particularly helps that portion of the paving which is done by the city, like intersections and the third of the street where the street is being repaved.

Amendment No. 2 seems to have lost. This concerned the liability of the city in case of damages in streets or on sidewalks.

THE BRAINERD MUSICAL CLUB

THE Brainerd Musical club features George Klass, violinist, and Miss Helen Grotte, pianiste, in the club's concert this Saturday afternoon at Elks' hall. Mr. Klass is a famous violinist, a member of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra.

The Musical club's year book is just off the Dispatch presses and a splendid club record is revealed. The cover design of colored paper, printed in two colors, is of unique design and the book is attractively arranged and printed. The Musical club was organized in 1903 and joined the Federation of Women's clubs in 1907. Its past presidents include a roster of women prominent in civic work, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Mrs. C. M. Patek, Mrs. Irma C. Hartley, Mrs. Henry I. Cohen, Mrs. Bruce J. Broady, Mrs. O. H. Johnson, Mrs. E. O. Webb, Mrs. D. M. Clark, Mrs. J. A. Thabes.

Its roll of officers, directors and committees for the season embraces just as active ladies, headed by the President Mrs. A. C. Weber. The membership roll has increased and takes up five pages in the year book. The club is an established institution in the city, has demonstrated its worth in the encouragement of the best in music, and has also done much in broad civic ways.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

THE vote polled by Hon. Edward P. Scallon, candidate for re-election as representative-at-large of Crow Wing and Morrison counties, is a remarkable one. The figures given below are based on unofficial returns.

In Morrison county he polled 4482 votes while his opponent only amassed 1827. Mr. Scallon got more votes than any candidate for any office and in 46 precincts reported, carried every one of them. Little Falls, composed of four precincts, gave him 1226 and his opponent 349.

In Crow Wing county Scallon polled 5010 and his opponent, Moritz, 1924. In Brainerd, its seven precincts gave Scallon 2142 and Moritz 769. In Crosby Scallon polled 709 and Moritz 148. Of 50 precincts in the county reporting, Scallon carried 40 or more. Mr. Scallon polled the highest total in the county of any candidate contesting for office.

Mr. Scallon has endeared himself to the district and has made a success in his legislative career.

A HUNTER'S PARADISE

WITH hearty appreciation deer hunters welcome the advent of snow and hope it stays on the ground during the coming hunting season. The deer season opens Monday, November 10.

Minnesota is really the hunter's paradise, for in its broad confines, at stated periods, one may catch bass and pike, trap fur-bearing animals, shoot ducks, hunt deer. A closed season now protects moose, elk, caribou, beaver and otter, harmless birds and snipe.

Wise game laws protect the wild life of the state and makes such denizens one of the invaluable assets of the state. Minnesota has broad lakes and splendid rivers and streams with its fish and bird life; forests with their wild animals. It's a great state for the native Minnesotan and the tourist, hunter and fisherman from abroad who cherish its traditions, admire its roads and scenery and the game abounding. We wouldn't trade Minnesota with its resources and opportunities for any other state in the union.

ANALYZING KNUTSON VOTE

IN examining the vote polled by Harold Knutson, congressman of the sixth district, Crow Wing county gave him a larger vote than that polled by any other Republican candidates, except Coolidge and Mike Holm.

Even though he lost the county by 310 votes and Coolidge carried it by 505, based on unofficial returns, still Knutson polled within 200 as many votes as President Coolidge and over 60 more than Christianson for governor. The fact that he lost the county was due to the withdrawal of Indrehus, democratic candidate, which centered the opposition of the democrats and farmer-laborites against him.

In the sixth district Mr. Knutson carried all counties except Crow Wing and Benton counties, and possibly Morrison county too.

ONE hundred and twenty-five prisoners from Minnesota are now confined at the Leavenworth penitentiary. Most of them are serving sentences for liquor and narcotic violations.

MINNESOTA'S football seems to have a punch, but neglects the opportune time to use it.

THERE are too many collisions these days, of cars, of cars and trains, motorbuses and trains.

COME UNDER HEAD OF POOR "WRITERS"

Famous Authors Noted for Their Bad Chirography.

The quill is nearly extinct, and it almost looks as if the steel pen would follow its example. Authors now as a rule seem to use typewriters or dictate their words, though some still stick to pen and ink. The change of practice is a blow to those professors who make a living by describing characters from handwriting.

One good result will be the abolition of the numerous mistakes made by the compositor in "setting up" writing which he is unable to decipher. If Shakespeare habitually wrote as badly as his signatures imply it is no wonder that there are a large number of doubtful words in his text. Yet Shakespeare appears to acknowledge the importance of clear writing, for he makes Hamlet say:

"I once did hold it, as our statists do, A baseness to write fair."

Coming to more recent times, we find that many authors, for some reason, were addicted to microscopic writing. Charlotte Bronte was one.

Miss Mitford was another. Like Southey, she used to boast that she could send more for her money than anyone else. Thackeray wrote a small but beautifully clear hand. He boasted that he would be able to write the Lord's Prayer on his thumbnail. Captain Marryat, R. D. Blackmore, William Black and many others wrote in an extremely small hand.

Charles Dickens used blue ink on blue paper, and his interlinations were numerous. There are several of his MSS. in the Forster library at South Kensington. Sidney Smith described his own handwriting as "if a swarm of ants, escaping from an ink bottle, had walked over a sheet of paper without wiping their legs." That of his friend, Lord Jeffrey, was still more illegible. Sydney Smith once acknowledged one of his letters as follows: "We are much obliged by your letter, but should be still more so were it legible. I have tried to read it from left to right, and Mrs. Sydney from right to left, and we neither of us can decipher a single word of it."

Hawthorne was a terribly bad writer, and some of his MSS. found after his death remain unpublished, as they cannot be deciphered. Of Horace Greeley's manuscript a compositor said that if Belshazzar had seen that writing on the wall he would have been still more terrified.

Carlyle's script was the despair of the compositors. Balzac's was so bad that the printers insisted that they should not work at it for more than an hour at a time. Dean Stanley was asked by a New York editor for an article, but when it arrived no one could read it, and it had to be sent back to England to be rewritten. By the time that it reached the editor again the topic was out of date—John O' London's Weekly.

Dog Does Town's Greeting

A huge St. Bernard dog is the reception committee at the little mining village of White Horse, Alaska. Tourists returning here relate how impressed they were with the cordiality of the unique welcome accorded them there. Mrs. C. C. Puffer of Brooklyn, Mass., world traveler, told this story, according to the New York World.

"As we alighted in the town we were met by a large curly-haired St. Bernard dog. He carried a sign which read, 'Reception Committee of White Horse. Welcome, Shake.'"

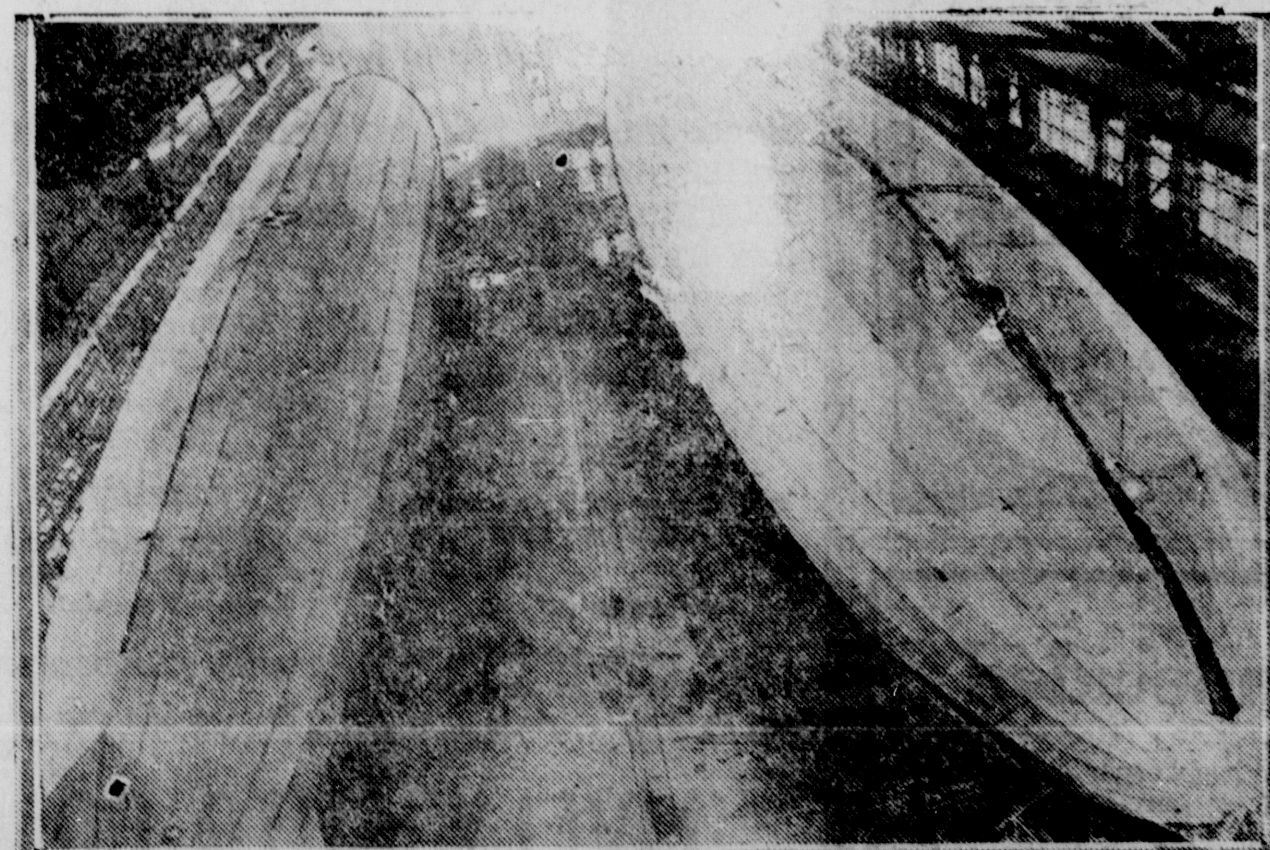

"We stretched out our hand and the smiling dog with massive head and kindly eyes raised a powerful paw for our handshake."

"At the slightest squeeze of his foot the big dog welcomed every one by a hoarse bark, which immediately started all the malamutes in the village, until it became one howling pandemonium."

Dog Must Stay Out

"I don't mind the children having a dog," explained a Trumbull avenue woman recently, "but hereafter, the animal has got to be kept out of the house while I'm cooking. I had just made a batch of light rolls, and had them in a pan in front of the fire to raise. They had just got a good start, and I left the room. When I came back, the dog had got into the kitchen some way and was just finishing the last of the rolls. They must have been pretty good, too, for he swelled up until he was almost twice as big around as he ought to be. It didn't do him any permanent damage physically, but I guess it hurt his feelings when I told him what I thought; any way he wouldn't look me in the eye for a week."—Detroit News.

SHENANDOAH, BACK HOME FROM 9,000 MILE CRUISE, JOINS GIANT SISTER SHIP, ZR-3, AT LAKEHURST HANGAR

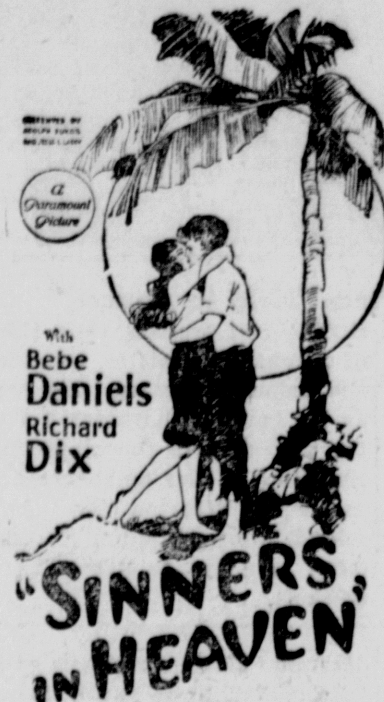

After the longest and hardest voyage ever made by a lighter than air flying-craft, the Shenandoah returned to Lakehurst, N. J., from Camp Lewis, Wash., having crossed the continent twice through all kinds of weather. She set new records for aerial navigation, her flight being by far the longest ever attempted by a dirigible and made in the face of dangers no other has ever been called upon to meet. The flight was the first on which an airship had attempted to cross an imposing mountain range and the first on which any had negotiated through mountain passes.

THE CITY CHARTER AMENDMENTS

OF the city charter amendments, No. 1 carried, according to unofficial figures received. A three-fifths majority is required to carry. This amendment will simplify the issuing certificates of indebtedness and will permit the council to do considerable paving next summer, if there is a demand for it.

It is understood that the present council would like to complete Fourth street from the court house to Kingwood street, as there has been a demand owing to the prominence of the new court house.

There is also demand for paving of the streets about Gregory park. Other wards have indicated the desire for paving. As petitions are considered in the order in which they are filed, it may be to the interest of those who desire paving to get their petitions before the council at an early date.

This amendment particularly helps that portion of the paving which is done by the city, like intersections and the third of the street where the street is being repaved.

Amendment No. 2 seems to have lost. This concerned the liability of the city in case of damages in streets or on sidewalks.

THE BRAINERD MUSICAL CLUB

THE Brainerd Musical club features George Klass, violinist, and Miss Helen Grotte, pianiste, in the club's concert this Saturday afternoon at Elks' hall. Mr. Klass is a famous violinist, a member of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra.

The Musical club's year book is just off the Dispatch presses and a splendid club record is revealed. The cover design of colored paper, printed in two colors, is of unique design and the book is attractively arranged and printed. The Musical club was organized in 1903 and joined the Federation of Women's clubs in 1907. Its past presidents include a roster of women prominent in civic work, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Mrs. C. M. Patek, Mrs. Irma C. Hartley, Mrs. Henry I. Cohen, Mrs. Bruce J. Broady, Mrs. O. H. Johnson, Mrs. E. O. Webb, Mrs. D. M. Clark, Mrs. J. A. Thabes.

Its roll of officers, directors and committees for the season embraces just as active ladies, headed by the President Mrs. A. C. Weber. The membership roll has increased and takes up five pages in the year book. The club is an established institution in the city, has demonstrated its worth in the encouragement of the best in music, and has also done much in broad civic ways.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

THE vote polled by Hon. Edward P. Scallion, candidate for re-election as representative-at-large of Crow Wing and Morrison counties, is a remarkable one. The figures given below are based on unofficial returns.

In Morrison county he polled 4482 votes while his opponent only amassed 1827. Mr. Scallion got more votes than any candidate for any office and in 46 precincts reported, carried every one of them. Little Falls, composed of four precincts, gave him 1226 and his opponent 349.

In Crow Wing county Scallion polled 5010 and his opponent, Moritz, 1924. In Brainerd, his seven precincts gave Scallion 2142 and Moritz 769. In Crosby Scallion polled 709 and Moritz 148. Of 50 precincts in the county reporting, Scallion carried 40 or more. Mr. Scallion polled the highest total in the county of any candidate contesting for office.

Mr. Scallion has endeared himself to the district and has made a success in his legislative career.

A HUNTER'S PARADISE

WITH hearty appreciation deer hunters welcome the advent of snow and hope it stays on the ground during the coming hunting season. The deer season opens Monday, November 10.

Minnesota is really the hunter's paradise, for in its broad confines, at stated periods, one may catch bass and pike, trap fur-bearing animals, shoot ducks, hunt deer. A closed season now protects moose, elk, caribou, beaver and otter, harmless birds and snipe.

Wise game laws protect the wild life of the state and makes such denizens one of the invaluable assets of the state. Minnesota has broad lakes and splendid rivers and streams with its fish and bird life; forests with their wild animals. It's a great state for the native Minnesotan and the tourist, hunter and fisherman from abroad who cherish its traditions, admire its roads and scenery and the game abounding. CANNED FOODS

WEEK NOV. 8-15

600,000 POSTERS ARE BEING USED TO ADVERTISE ANNUAL OBSERVANCE

Washington, Nov. 7.—Forty-seven states are already planning for the observance of canned goods week, Nov. 8 to 15, and over 250 local committees in all parts of the country are now arranging programs for the towns and cities in their districts.

Six hundred thousand posters displaying in thousands of groceries, from Maine to Hawaii, will carry the message of the week: "If it's in a can, it's fresh."

The observance of the week will emphasize the unique position of the United States in the canned goods industry. The United States now produces more canned foods than any other country, exports more, and yet consumes more in its own homes. It has invented and developed numerous devices to permit quantity production and it maintains at the same time a quality that conforms with the highest food standards of the world—those of our own federal and state governments.

This world leadership now extends to more than quantity and quality and canned foods week will this year give special emphasis to its third phase—the supremacy of our country in the variety of foods available in cans. The American industry now regularly produces no less than 200 different varieties—a figure that no other country approaches. Like most countries, the United States has its specialties—Americans are about the only people in the world that eat corn on the cob and in the can—but unlike most countries, its diet is not limited to a few staples and a specialty or two.

If confirmation of this fact were needed it could be found in the report on the cost of living in the United States made by the United States bureau of labor statistics.

Twelve thousand workmen's families were studied and figures secured on what and how much food they bought in a year. The report gives details for 27 varieties of meat, six of sea foods, nine of milk products, eighteen of grain products, eighteen of fruit, twenty-six of vegetables—altogether it covered more than 125 varieties of food. And a striking fact is the large proportion of the 12,000 families that use considerable quantities of each of these foods.

Canned foods naturally appear on the list. The figures show, for example, that 60.5 per cent of these families bought and used canned milk, 60.3 per cent used canned salmon, 58.2 per cent canned corn, 55 per cent canned peas, 50.2 per cent canned tomatoes, 36.1 per cent canned baked beans, 25.5 per cent canned peaches, 22.1 per cent canned pineapple and so on.

From these statistics, it is apparent that the average family does not consume foods only in their season and that they are using the products of the canning industry to give variety to their diet the year round.

Kept in Cage Eleven Years

Jean de la Balue, French ecclesiastic and politician of the fifteenth century, incurred the displeasure of King Louis XI, who had him shut up in an iron cage for eleven years, from 1460 to 1480.

New Fabrics Colorful; Not Bizarre or Crude

Whether materials influence the mode or whether fashion determines the fabric is hard to say, observes a writer in the Kansas City Star, but there must be co-operation between those who create the modes and those who design and manufacture textiles in order to achieve the perfect results that are demanded by the fashionable woman of today.

It always seems as though the materials of a new season are lovelier than those of previous ones. Each year colors are more skillfully and subtly blended, designs are more ingeniously executed and textiles more supple. This winter apparently is to witness a decided vogue of velvet, and few fabrics are more startlingly beautiful than the printed or brocaded velvets. The color effects are quite extraordinary and are brilliant without being bizarre or crude. Rich shades of blue and tangerine, turquoise, coral and the varied tones of green so popular at the moment, as well as a new shade of cranberry, are shown in both printed and plain velvets.

Metal cloths as soft and pliable as satin are among the novelties of the new season and are used for evening frocks. They are especially lovely when combined with metal laces.

Of decidedly plebeian origin, ermine nevertheless makes its appearance in the realm of evening clothes, but it is glorified almost beyond recognition by the use of metal thread embroidery and crystal and silver beads. One of the new evening coats is made of ermine which has the entire background filled in with stitches of gold thread. The pattern is left untouched, but is outlined with tiny crystal and silver beads. The lining of taupe velvet matches the collar and cuffs of tape fox.

Bengaline Made Into Chic Afternoon Frock

This attractive frock for afternoon wear is of soft colored bengaline, one of the popular fabrics of the season.

Cause of Writer's Cramp

Writer's cramp has been defined as an occupational neurosis to which those who do too much writing, especially with the hand too tightly contracted, are liable. A person with the trouble has no control over the muscles of the thumb and middle and fore fingers, although other manual operations are performed without difficulty. The affection seldom manifests itself till toward middle age.

Busy Woman Executive Alert To New Ideas In Cooking Art

"ASK ANNE EDGERLY" has now become a by-word among editors and advertising men, for if they wish material on the advertising of a certain concern, where it is placed and how long the contract runs, they know that all they have to do is to ask Miss Edgerly, who originated and who manages the Publishers' Information Bureau, and who has such information instantly available.

But also Miss Edgerly is a dependable source of information in business matters, she is also alert to new ideas in culinary matters. This recipe for Nut and Macaroni Savory has quite an original turn to it and is one of her favorites:

Various Mourning Colors

Black is not universally used as a sign of mourning. The South Sea Islanders use black and white stripes, indicating sorrow and hope, while in Ethiopia a grayish brown, the color of the earth, is worn. In Persia the mourning color is light brown, and in Syria and Armenia sky blue, an indicative of heaven. In Turkey it is violet, and in China white, as an emblem of hope.

Takes pills for years—finds first permanent relief in Kellogg's Bran

Have you found permanent relief from that terrible disease—constipation? The woman whose letter follows discovered—Kellogg's Bran succeeded when all else fails. This is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. This is what she wrote:

"Gentlemen: I am so wonderfully happy over my discovery, I feel I must tell the world about it. For years I have been ill continually from constipation, always resorting to pills or the like, never having any permanent relief until I heard of your Bran. Every morning I take two table-spoonfuls before my breakfast—and since the latter part of August I must admit have not experienced one sick spell which I have had for years. I have started my little girl of four years on your Bran, and already I have noticed a change in her. I thank you." Name and address furnished on request. Write the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation. Eat at least two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Money returned if not effective.

Notice the wonderful nut-like flavor. This flavor is delicious—so different from ordinary, unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, made in Battle Creek, is served by America's leading hotels and clubs. Demand Kellogg's Bran. It will bring back your health. Start eating it today. CANNED FOODS

WEEK NOV. 8-15

600,000 POSTERS ARE BEING USED TO ADVERTISE ANNUAL OBSERVANCE

Washington, Nov. 7.—Forty-seven states are already planning for the observance of canned goods week, Nov. 8 to 15, and over 250 local committees in all parts of the country are now arranging programs for the towns and cities in their districts.

Six hundred thousand posters displaying in thousands of groceries, from Maine to Hawaii, will carry the message of the week: "If it's in a can, it's fresh."

The observance of the week will emphasize the unique position of the United States in the canned goods industry. The United States now produces more canned foods than any other country, exports more, and yet consumes more in its own homes. It has invented and developed numerous devices to permit quantity production and it maintains at the same time a quality that conforms with the highest food standards of the world—those of our own federal and state governments.

This world leadership now extends to more than quantity and quality and canned foods week will this year give special emphasis to its third phase—the supremacy of our country in the variety of foods available in cans. The American industry now regularly produces no less than 200 different varieties—a figure that no other country approaches. Like most countries, the United States has its specialties—Americans are about the only people in the world that eat corn on the cob and in the can—but unlike most countries, its diet is not limited to a few staples and a specialty or two.

If confirmation of this fact were needed it could be found in the report on the cost of living in the United States made by the United States bureau of labor statistics.

Twelve thousand workmen's families were studied and figures secured on what and how much food they bought in a year. The report gives details for 27 varieties of meat, six of sea foods, nine of milk products, eighteen of grain products, eighteen of fruit, twenty-six of vegetables—altogether it covered more than 125 varieties of food. And a striking fact is the large proportion of the 12,000 families that use considerable quantities of each of these foods.

Canned foods naturally appear on the list. The figures show, for example, that 60.3 per cent of these families bought and used canned milk, 60.8 per cent used canned salmon, 58.2 per cent canned corn, 55 per cent canned peas, 50.2 per cent canned tomatoes, 36.1 per cent canned baked beans, 25.5 per cent canned peaches, 22.1 per cent canned pineapple and so on.

From these statistics, it is apparent that the average family does not consume foods only in their season and that they are using the products of the canning industry to give variety to their diet the year round.

Kept in Cage Eleven Years

Jean de la Baie, French ecclesiastic and politician of the fifteenth century, incurred the displeasure of King Louis XI, who had him shut up in an iron cage for eleven years, from 1463 to 1480.

New Fabrics Colorful; Not Bizarre or Crude

Whether materials influence the mode or whether fashion determines the fabric is hard to say, observes a writer in the Kansas City Star, but there must be co-operation between those who create the modes and those who design and manufacture textiles in order to achieve the perfect results that are demanded by the fashionable woman of today.

It always seems as though the materials of a new season are lovelier than those of previous ones. Each year colors are more skillfully and subtly blended, designs are more ingeniously executed and textiles more supple. This winter apparently is to witness a decided vogue of velvet, and few fabrics are more startlingly beautiful than the printed or brocaded velvets. The color effects are quite extraordinary and are brilliant without being bizarre or crude. Rich shades of blue and tangerine, turquoise, coral and the varied tones of green so popular at the moment, as well as a new shade of cranberry, are shown in both printed and plain velvets.

Metal cloths as soft and pliable as satin are among the novelties of the new season and are used for evening frocks. They are especially lovely when combined with metal laces.

Of decidedly plebeian origin, ermine nevertheless makes its appearance in the realm of evening clothes, but it is glorified almost beyond recognition by the use of metal thread embroidery and crystal and silver beads. One of the new evening coats is made of ermine which has the entire background filled in with stitches of gold thread. The pattern is left untouched, but is outlined with tiny crystal and silver beads. The lining of taupe velvet matches the collar and cuffs of taupe fox.

Bengaline Made Into Chic Afternoon Frocks

This attractive frock for afternoon wear is of soft colored bengaline, one of the popular fabrics of the season.

Cause of Writer's Cramp

Writer's cramp has been defined as an occupational neurosis to which those who do too much writing, especially with the hand too tightly contracted, are liable. A person with the trouble has no control over the muscles of the thumb and middle and fore fingers, although other manual operations are performed without difficulty. The affection seldom manifests itself till toward middle age.

Busy Woman Executive Alert To New Ideas In Cooking Art

"MISS ANNE EDGERLY" HAS

now become a by-word among editors and advertising men, for if they wish material on the advertising of a certain concern, where it is placed and how long the contract runs, they know that all they have to do is ask Miss Edgerly, who originated and who manages the "Publishers' Information Bureau, and who has such information instantly available.

But altho Miss Edgerly is a dependable source of information in business matters, she is also alert to new ideas in culinary matters. This recipe for Nut and Macaroni Savory has quite an original turn to it and is one of her favorites:

4 tablespoonfuls melted Crisco
1/2 lb. chopped Brazil Nuts
1 cupful boiled Macaroni
1 1/2 cupfuls Breadcrumbs
2 Eggs
3 cupfuls Milk
2 tablespoonfuls chopped Parsley
Salt, pepper and powdered mace to taste.

Brown Sauce
Cut macaroni into small pieces and put into bowl, add nut, breadcrumbs, seasonings, eggs well beaten, and milk; turn into well greased earthenware dish, dot with tiny pieces of Crisco and bake in moderate oven forty-five minutes. Serve hot with brown sauce.

Various Mourning Colors

Black is not universally used as a sign of mourning. The South sea islanders use black and white stripes, indicating sorrow and hope, while in Ethiopia a grayish brown, the color of the earth, is worn. In Persia the mourning color is light brown, and in Syria and Armenia sky blue, an indicative of heaven. In Turkey it is violet, and in China white, as an emblem of hope.

JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW BY RADIO

WCCO TO BROADCAST ALL RACKET OF STOCK SHOW

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Nov. 7.—The bleat of lambs, the moo of cows, and the grunt of champion pigs will be broadcast Wednesday night, Nov. 12, by WCCO, twin cities radio station, as a special feature of the Junior Livestock show. So far as is known it will be the first time an attempt has been made to broadcast all the racket of a stock show.

Mayor Arthur E. Nelson will open the program at the St. Paul auditorium at 9 p. m. and will present prizes to owners of champion and near-champion animals. The Hookem Cow quartet and other musicians will participate.

CANADA PLANS TO BRING BACK SALMON

(By United Press)
Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 7.—Restoration of the salmon canning industry of the Fraser River, which used to net $30,000,000 annually to Vancouver and New Westminster, will be attempted through establishment of a chain of hatcheries along the river breeding sockeyes, according to an announcement here by Ernest LaPointe, Dominion Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

"Experts from the department have been making a survey of the fisheries," LaPointe said, "and they believe that by an enlarged system of hatching, the run of sockeye can be increased to a point where the Fraser River will again be British Columbia's leading source of supplying salmon. Most of the new hatcheries will be placed at points from which the sockeye has practically disappeared."

Fabric Glove Has Milady's Approval

Pleasing Handcovering May Be Had in Fancy and Plain Modes.

The fabric glove has gained a new prestige for the autumn, says a correspondent in the Christian Science Monitor. It appears now in fancy as well as plain modes and shows a beauty of texture and style that is worthy of almost any street or afternoon costume.

Never before, say those who make a particular study of glove seasons, has there been such an expert imitation of French suede. Even the prices of suede gloves have been limited, you may say upon first inquiry. But the new fabric gloves, while more expensive than ever, have an enviable advantage—they can be washed in soap and water. Furthermore, as a second examination of them will show, the material and workmanship combine in giving a far more refined effect than past fabric creations have suggested.

They can be bought in the prevailing glove colors of the season—gray and beige, with the many intermediary shades. It is the slightly decorative types that are the most attractive, perhaps, and certainly the more expensive. A model in light beige, with chocolate-brown stitching on the back and a narrow, turn-back cuff trimmed with metal cloth has reason to be a promising favorite. The colors are unostentatious but effective. This is one of the finer group and one is almost tempted to doubt the saleswoman's explanation that the material is not suede and rub an appraising finger over it, to make sure.

Another "true to type" model is an all-gray glove. This has a scalloped cuff edged with a half-inch plaiting of the same. The fabric is a soft dark shade of gray, quite like the familiar shade in suede gloves but proof

BANK OF HEALTH

Do you realize that you must make deposits in the bank of health everyday? The safest way to keep your health-assets intact, is to keep your body well-nourished.

A little of Scott's Emulsion helps you keep your deposit of strength intact.

against many washings, according to reputation. More ornate than either of these two is a lighter gray with sky-blue trimming on the cuff which would go appropriately with dresses of more delicate materials.

Wrist-length gloves and short-sleeved dresses corinne to be acceptable contraries among autumn fashions. Twelve-button gloves in French suede, kid, and fabric will be very popular this winter.

For the business woman, there are new qualities and varieties of a glove that was created for time-saving purposes. It has three names—the slip-on, the pull-on and the Biarritz glove, the last name coming from the French town where the fabric is manufactured. Of gauntlet length, without snaps or straps, this glove has a flare sufficiently wide to take in a medium-sized coat cuff and a wrist sufficiently narrow to be like not too loosely. The slip-on glove is available in French kid, suede, buckskin, doeskin and chamois, besides an inexpensive model in fabric.

While the novelty gloves are called for quite as frequently as ever, the novelties, on the whole, are of a less conspicuous nature. A few elaborate styles in better gloves for those who prefer them can be bought at some of the stores, and some of these, provided the costume and occasion warrant, are very pleasing. Embroidered, hand-painted and stenciled cuff designs are found in this group. One pair of old-ivory-colored French kid, with turn-back cuffs of navy-blue moire silk, with tiny flowers hand-painted in old rose, will probably appeal to those who like styles that are ornate and yet tasteful.

Poetical Burmese Belief

This is a belief of people of Burma. Dorothy Dix says that the Burmese believe that the soul, in the form of a butterfly, leaves the body while we sleep. They will never waken a sleeper for fear his butterfly may not be able to get back quickly enough to its habitation, the soul having gone wandering during the person's sleep.

Misquoted With Effect

SOUTH DAKOTA CEMENT PLANT

STATE-OWNED ENTERPRISE TO START OPERATION FIRST OF YEAR

Rapid City, S. N., Nov. 7.—South Dakota is ready to make cement.

Formal announcement of the completion of the large state-owned cement plant here down to installation of the last few pieces of specialized machinery was made today by A. C. Hunt, secretary-treasurer of the State Cement commission. The plant will go into operation the first of the year, he said, as a producer of commercial cement on a competitive market. Its product will be known as "Dacotah Portland cement."

Located at the west edge of this city, the South Dakota cement plant stands as the fulfillment of a project first placed under way when a constitutional amendment was adopted in 1918, enabling the state to enter into the cement manufacturing business. Actual construction of the plant was begun May 15, 1923. It is ready for business after an unbroken record of progress, just 17½ months after the start. The cost of the plant is a small margin below the $2,000,000 appropriated for the purpose.

Plant and quarry are situated on a total of 188 acres of land. There are nine buildings in the plant assembly. The larger ones are constructed of reinforced cement.

Chief materials entering into the process are limestone, shale and gypsum.

"GRANDAD TO BLAME" FOR YOUR GRAY HAIR

(By United Press)
Chicago, Nov. 7.—If your hair is turning gray blame it on your great grandfather.

"Heredit is the determining factor in decreeing when a person's hair will turn gray," Neal R. Andrews,

New York beauty specialist, told a convention of hairdressers here. "Gray hair runs in families. If your father was white about the temples at 30, you may as well resign yourself to premature greyness."

"Added to heredity there are other agents which induce gray hair. Violent emotions may change the color of the hair in a few hours. Tales of horror in which men's hair is said to have turned white in an instant have a foundation in fact. The wear and tear of modern life with its jazz, overwork and worry is another contributing factor to grayness."

15 ALIENS ARE MADE CITIZENS

Class of 26 Applicants Appeared in District Court Tuesday Afternoon

R. K. DOE WAS EXAMINER

Citizenship Program Was in Charge of Committee From Various Civic Organizations

Fifteen aliens were admitted to citizenship out of a class of 26 applicants in district court on Tuesday afternoon. R. K. Doe, of Duluth, was the examining officer.

The citizenship program was in charge of a committee selected from various civic organizations of the city, and suitable patriotic exercises were presented.

The program opened with a selection by the high school orchestra followed by the singing of "America." A. C. Mraz leading the assemblage. Mr. Doe then conducted the examination of the applicants, after which a short recess was taken.

Rev. N. P. Olmsted, of the First Congregational church, made the address of the afternoon, on the importance and responsibility of citizenship. Rev. Olmsted gave a very impressive address, directed as much to native-born citizens as to the newly made citizens.

The oath of allegiance was administered and the silk American flags, furnished by the local Elks lodge, were presented by Mrs. M. A. Bronson, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Bronson explained the flag, stating that the stars represented the states in the union, and the bars the original thirteen states. She also called attention to that part of the Constitution which states that in all questions of policy as related to the government, citizens should consult and obey the laws governing same.

The program closed with the assemblage singing the Star Spangled Banner. A reception was held for the newly admitted citizens, followed by a lunch, served by the American Legion Auxiliary. B. L. Lagerquist, of the Lions club was general chairman of arrangements for citizenship day.

Following is the list of those admitted to citizenship on Wednesday: Paul Muhar, Sigfred Engblom, Antonio Scalucci, Rose Mary Liner, Johnson, Frank Kovatovich, George Samuel Pohjola, Paul Edward Lauritsen Dybvik, George Zauhar, Elsie Martha Vieltz Hanski, John Samuel Hanski, Herman Alfred Olson, Edith Marie Holmstrom Martinson, Joseph Stanich, Minnie Annie Wills Stanich, and Benjamin Welton.

District court was adjourned until Wednesday, November 12th, at which time the petit jury is to be called, and the jury cases started. Hon. C. W. Stanton, of Bemidji will be on the bench, Judge W. S. McClenahan being called to Duluth. The grand jury is called for this Friday, November 7th.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Jim Cleary's shooting average is still rising, as he brought in another blue bill this morning. He claimed to have had some difficulty proving ownership of said duck, so matched pennies to prove his claim.

One of the oddest stories brought in for this "colyum" concerns Shi. Schaefer. It appears Schaefer was at his fine cottage on the shore of Round lake and was examining his shotgun to be sure the safety catch on the trigger worked. Schaefer became so interested in the manipulation of the shotgun that he forgot all about standing in the cottage and supposed he was out in the open. The safety was not working good that day, the gun discharged and blew a hole in the side of the house.

Received a telephone call yesterday to insert a story in this "colyum" about a Brainerd young man who has gone away to get married. He has been engaged to the girl for many years. We refuse to print any jokes about any prospective bridegroom, because getting married is no joke.

Brainerd is awaiting to see Dutch Strout appear in his election bet livery. He is to wear red flannels and a red mackinaw coat for three weeks.

SALESMAN DROPS DEAD IN STORE

Fred C. Dallam of Art Tailoring Co. Expires at O'Brien Mercantile Company Store

HEART TROUBLE CAUSE

Coroner Whitney Takes Charge of Remains, Endeavors to Locate Relatives

Fred C. Dallam, traveling salesman out of Chicago for the Art Tailoring Company, dropped dead about 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at the O'Brien Mercantile Co's. store. It is thought that death was caused from heart trouble.

Mr. Dallam was registered at the Ransford hotel, and had taken his sample trunk to the Peterson Clothing Company, where he had placed his line on display. As soon as this was completed he stated that he thought that he would take a short walk, remarking that the crisp air was very bracing.

He walked down to the O'Brien store to see Jay O'Brien. Just after entering the store he took off his glove to shake hands and collapsed, death following in a few moments.

Coroner D. E. Whitney took charge of the body and wired to the company which Mr. Dallam represented, also to an E. L. Dallam, residing in Texas, whose name was found on an identification card in the dead man's pocket.

This was Mr. Dallam's second trip to Brainerd, it is said. From appearances he is a man about 40 years old, and is thought to be a bachelor.

BOARD MEETS TO CANVASS VOTE

Board of Education to Consider Vote on High School Site and Make Official Statement

UNOFFICIAL FIGURES GIVEN

Total Vote Cast Was 3525, Clerks Certify as to Various Ballots Cast

The board of education meets this evening, at which time the vote on the new high school site will be canvassed and an official announcement made of the results.

From the unofficial returns, block 82, or the "fill" site, received 1,287 correctly marked ballots, ballots marked "yes" for this site and "no" for the South Sixth street site. In addition there were 573 ballots marked with only a "yes" for the fill site.

For block 129, or the South Sixth street site, there were 608 correctly marked ballots, and 324 ballots marked with "yes" only.

Ballots against both sites totaled 602, and blank ballots numbered 131, giving a grand total of 3,525 votes cast in the special election.

KNUTSON ELECTED BY 7,500 MAJORITY

Delayed returns from many of the outlying precincts in the sixth congressional district are steadily increasing Harold Knutson's lead over S. C. Shipstead in the race for congressman and the present congressman will carry this district by a majority of approximately 7,500 votes.

ASK TO FORM NEW TOWNSHIP

Brainerd People With Cottages on East Side Gull Lake Petition Cass County

"EAST GULL LAKE" TOWNSHIP

George W. French And R. Baak-konen Secure Names For Petition

Brainerd people with lakeshore property on the east side of Gull lake in Cass county, together with residents of that section, have petitioned for a division of Fairview township, so that the portion on the east side of the lake may be formed into a new township with the proposed name of "East Gull Lake."

George W. French and R. Baak-konen form the committee in charge of securing the names on this petition, and practically all of the residents and lakeshore owners in the part of Fairview township affected have signed the petition. A hearing on this petition will be held at Walker on next Wednesday, November 12th.

More than fifteen miles of lake shore on the east side of Gull lake and on Wilson lake is affected in the proposed division of the township. Fairview now contains one and one-half townships, and the division would take practically half of the present township.

The division line of the new township would begin at the northeast corner of the present Fairview township, and would follow the east Gull lake shore and the east side of Wilson lake to a point about midway along the south side of the latter, where the line goes due south to the southern boundary of the present township.

Brainerd residents, with lakeshore property within the boundary of the proposed East Gull Lake township include, Dr. A. K. Cohen, E. S. Houghton, John M. Bye, B. L. Lagerquist, Gustav Halvorson, O. A. Peterson, B. E. Dunham, R. J. Tinkelpaugh, Nellie M. Keene, A. M. Opsahl, M. J. Reis, John Walburn, Benson Brothers, C. N. Erickson, Theo. Miller, Ray H. Paine, Louis Hostager, C. D. McKay, A. C. BUCKEYE HUNTING CLUB AFTER DEER

Brainerd Men Leave For Their Camp in St. Louis County, 150 Miles From Brainerd

SIX MEN IN THE PARTY

Camp is Located on Duluth & Northeastern Railway Near Fairbanks

Members of the Buckeye hunting club left Thursday for their camp in St. Louis county, about 150 miles from Brainerd. This is the annual deer-hunting trip of the club, and each member confidently expects to bring home his legal allotment of venison.

Included in the party are Dr. A. K. Cohen, M. J. Reis, S. E. Engbretson, A. M. Opsahl, Gustav Halvorson, and Arthur Johnson. This is the tenth season that these men have made the pilgrimage to Buckeye camp, and in all that time they have never had a failure.

Buckeye camp is situated on the Duluth & Northeastern Railway, near the postoffice of Fairbanks. The club owns its hunting lodge there and the members are going up a few days before the hunting season starts to put the camp in first-class shape. A radio outfit will be installed, so that the hunters may keep in touch with current events. The deer season opens on Monday, November 10th.

The trip was made by train this year, and the club expects to spend about ten days in camp.

Fame and Glory

came to me, through these beauty aids

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I made myself a famous beauty and the rage. I have lived for 40 years a glorious career.

Now I remain at my height—as young and beautiful as ever. The envy of thousands who see me daily on the stage.

All that because I searched the world for aids to youth and beauty. I found the best that science offered. Then all the later, better helps.

Now those supreme helps are at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters have them. In four preparations are combined 52 matchless ingredients.

Learn what these helps do for women. You owe that to yourself.

My Youth Cream

My Youth Cream is a remarkable creation, combining many factors. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best helps science gave me to foster and protect the skin.

It comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. My velvet complexion shows what that cream can do.

The cost is 50c per jar.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I also owe to France. Great beauty experts the world over now advise this formula, but their price is too high for most women.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the dirt, grease, grime and dead skin come out with it. My Facial Youth will bring you new conceptions of what a clean skin means. The cost is 75c.

The program opened with a selection by the high school orchestra followed by the singing of "America." A. C. Mraz leading the assemblage, Mr. Doe then conducted the examination of the applicants, after which a short recess was taken.

Rev. N. P. Olmsted, of the First Congregational church, made the address of the afternoon, on the importance and responsibility of citizenship. Rev. Olmsted gave a very impressive address, directed as much to native-born citizens as to the newly made citizens.

The oath of allegiance was administered and the silk American flags, furnished by the local Elks lodge, were presented by Mrs. M. A. Bronson, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Bronson explained the flag, stating that the stars represented the states in the union, and the bars the original thirteen states. She also called attention to that part of the Constitution which states that in all questions of policy as related to the government, citizens should consult and obey the laws governing same.

The program closed with the assemblage singing the Star Spangled Banner. A reception was held for the newly admitted citizens, followed by a lunch, served by the American Legion Auxiliary. B. L. Lagerquist, of the Lions club was general chairman of arrangements for citizenship day.

Following is the list of those admitted to citizenship on Wednesday: Paul Muhar, Sigfred Engblom, Antonio Scalucci, Rose Mary Liners Johnson, Frank Kovatovich, George Samuel Pohjola, Paul Edward Lauritsen Dybvik, George Zauhar, Elsie Martha Vielitz Hanski, John Samuel Hanski, Herman Alfred Olson, Edith Marie Holmstrom Martinson, Joseph Stanich, Minnie Annie Wills Stanich, and Benjamin Welton.

District court was adjourned until Wednesday, November 12th, at which time the petit jury is to be called, and the jury cases started. Hon. C. W. Stanton, of Bemidji will be on the bench, Judge W. S. McClenahan being called to Duluth. The grand jury is called for this Friday, November 7th.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Jim Cleary's shooting average is still rising, as he brought in another blue bill this morning. He claimed to have had some difficulty proving ownership of said duck, so matched pennies to prove his claim.

One of the oddest stories brought in for this "colyum" concerns Shj. Schaefer. It appears Schaefer was at his fine cottage on the shore of Round lake and was examining his shotgun to be sure the safety catch on the trigger worked. Schaefer became so interested in the manipulation of the shotgun that he forgot all about standing in the cottage and supposed he was out in the open. The safety was not working good that day, the gun discharged and blew a hole in the side of the house.

Received a telephone call yesterday to insert a story in this "colyum" about a Brainerd young man who has gone away to get married. He has been engaged to the girl for many years. We refuse to print any jokes about any prospective bridegroom, because getting married is no joke.

Brainerd is awaiting to see Dutch Strout appear in his election bet livery. He is to wear red flannels and a red mackinaw coat for three weeks.

SALESMAN DROPS DEAD IN STORE

Fred C. Dallam of Art Tailoring Co. Expires at O'Brien Mercantile Company Store

HEART TROUBLE CAUSE

Coroner Whitney Takes Charge of Remains, Endeavors to Locate Relatives

Fred C. Dallam, traveling salesman out of Chicago for the Art Tailoring Company, dropped dead about 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at the O'Brien Mercantile Co's. store. It is thought that death was caused from heart trouble.

Mr. Dallam was registered at the Ransford hotel, and had taken his sample trunk to the Peterson Clothing Company, where he had placed his line on display. As soon as this was completed he stated that he thought that he would take a short walk, remarking that the crisp air was very bracing.

He walked down to the O'Brien store to see Jay O'Brien. Just after entering the store he took off his glove to shake hands and collapsed, death following in a few moments.

Coroner D. E. Whitney took charge of the body and wired to the company which Mr. Dallam represented, also to an E. L. Dallam, residing in Texas, whose name was found on an identification card in the dead man's pocket.

This was Mr. Dallam's second trip to Brainerd, it is said. From appearances he is a man about 40 or 45 years old, and is thought to be a bachelor.

BOARD MEETS TO CANVASS VOTE

Board of Education to Consider Vote on High School Site and Make Official Statement

UNOFFICIAL FIGURES GIVEN

Total Vote Cast Was 3525, Clerks Certify as to Various Ballots Cast

The board of education meets this evening, at which time the vote on the new high school site will be canvassed and an official announcement made of the results.

From the unofficial returns, block 82, or the "all" site, received 1,287 correctly marked ballots, ballots marked "yes" for this site and "no" for the South Sixth street site. In addition there were 573 ballots marked with only a "yes" for the all site.

For block 129, or the South Sixth street site, there were 608 correctly marked ballots, and 324 ballots marked with "yes" only.

Ballots against both sites totaled 602, and blank ballots numbered 131, giving a grand total of 3,525 votes cast in the special election.

KNUTSON ELECTED BY 7,500 MAJORITY

Delayed returns from many of the outlying precincts in the sixth congressional district are steadily increasing Harold Knutson's lead over S. C. Shipstead in the race for congressman and the present congressman will carry this district by a majority of approximately 7,500 votes.

The New Park theatre was host on Thursday evening to the Brainerd Fire Department, entertaining the members at the showing of "Sinners in Heaven."

About thirty members of the department took advantage of the hospitality of the management of the New Park, attending the first show. They enjoyed the picture very much, and appreciate the courtesy of the New Park.

Silent Airplanes

Berlin, Nov. 7.—A silent air fleet is the dream of German aviation experts. A plane that makes practically no noise as it moves through the air has been developed by a group of Berlin engineers. Squadrons of silent air raiders would add grave difficulties to the problems of air defense, it has been pointed out.

ASK TO FORM NEW TOWNSHIP

Brainerd People With Cottages on East Side Gull Lake Petition Cass County

"EAST GULL LAKE" TOWNSHIP

George W. French and R. Baakonen Secure Names For Petition

Brainerd people with lakeshore property on the east side of Gull lake in Cass county, together with residents of that section, have petitioned for a division of Fairview township, so that the portion on the east side of the lake may be formed into a new township with the proposed name of "East Gull Lake."

George W. French and R. Baakonen form the committee in charge of securing the names on this petition, and practically all of the residents and lakeshore owners in the part of Fairview township affected have signed the petition. A hearing on this petition will be held at Walker on next Wednesday, November 12th.

More than fifteen miles of lake shore on the east side of Gull lake and on Wilson lake is affected in the proposed division of the township. Fairview now contains one and one-half townships, and the division would take practically half of the present township.

The division line of the new township would begin at the northeast corner of the present Fairview township, and would follow the east Gull lake shore and the east side of Wilson lake to a point about midway along the south side of the latter, where the line goes due south to the southern boundary of the present township.

Brainerd residents, with lakeshore property within the boundary of the proposed East Gull Lake township include, Dr. A. K. Cohen, E. S. Houghton, John M. Bye, B. L. Lagerquist, Gustav Halvorson, O. A. Peterson, B. E. Dunham, R. J. Tinkelpaugh, Nellie M. Keene, A. M. Opsahl, M. J. Reis, John Walburn, Benson Brothers, C. N. Erickson, Theo. Miller, Ray H. Paine, Louis Hostager, C. D. McKay, A. C. BUCKEYE HUNTING CLUB AFTER DEER

Brainerd Men Leave For Their Camp in St. Louis County, 150 Miles From Brainerd

SIX MEN IN THE PARTY

Camp is Located on Duluth & Northeastern Railway Near Fairbanks

Members of the Buckeye hunting club left Thursday for their camp in St. Louis county, about 150 miles from Brainerd. This is the annual deer-hunting trip of the club, and each member confidently expects to bring home his legal allotment of venison.

Included in the party are Dr. A. K. Cohen, M. J. Reis, S. E. Engbretson, A. M. Opsahl, Gustav Halvorson, and Arthur Johnson. This is the tenth season that these men have made the pilgrimage to Buckeye camp, and in all that time they have never had a failure.

Buckeye camp is situated on the Duluth & Northeastern Railway, near the postoffice of Fairbanks. The club owns its hunting lodge there and the members are going up a few days before the hunting season starts to put the camp in first-class shape. A radio outfit will be installed, so that the hunters may keep in touch with current events. The deer season opens on Monday, November 10th.

The trip was made by train this year, and the club expects to spend about ten days in camp.

Fame and Glory

came to me, through these beauty aids

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I made myself a famous beauty and the rage. I have lived for 40 years a glorious career.

Now I remain at my height—as young and beautiful as ever. The envy of thousands who see me daily on the stage.

All that because I searched the world for aids to youth and beauty. I found the best that science offered. Then all the later, better helps.

Now those supreme helps are at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters have them. In four preparations are combined 52 matchless ingredients.

Learn what these helps do for women. You owe that to yourself.

My Youth Cream

My Youth Cream is a remarkable creation, combining many factors. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best helps science gave me to foster and protect the skin.

It comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. My velvet complexion shows what that cream can do.

The cost is 60c per jar.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I also owe to France. Great beauty experts the world over now advise this formula, but their price is too high for most women.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the dirt, grease, grime and dead skin come out with it. My Facial Youth will bring you new conceptions of what a clean skin means. The cost is 75c.

FIRST "BIG THREE" GAME; OTHERS LIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 7.—That well known calm that is supposed to precede the storm can be applied with a few exceptions to tomorrow's football schedule. On most of the college gridirons of the major loop the calm was invited to prepare for the most severe storm of the season that is forecast for Saturday week.

Wise schedule makers and good managers have made it a custom to get opponents that should not make it too hard for their charges on the Saturday preceding the most important games of the season and with the exception of such teams as Notre Dame, Penn State, Syracuse and Pittsburgh the custom is a fixed rule.

Compared to the hurricane that swept the gridirons all over the country last Saturday, tomorrow's schedule presents hardly more than a breeze. There are hardly more than a half-dozen out-and-out hard games on the schedule.

The opening of the "Big Three" games furnishes the fancy trimmings for the east and Notre Dame's break into "Big Ten" society is the most interesting event of the west.

Princeton goes to Cambridge for the first game of the "Big Three" with Harvard, a battle that offers the best possibilities of any contest on the eastern card. The "Big Three" certainly has no monopoly on good football and, to the contrary, it may be said that more of real football is known in the Western Conference. But it is certain that no other section of the country knows more about hard fighting among themselves than Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

All of the stars of the Yale eleven who can be spared will be in the stands to scout the two teams that will pounce upon them in the last two games on their schedule. Yale has scheduled Maryland again for the "breather," regardless of the fact that Maryland all but beat Yale last year when the best players of the Eli team were out scouting.

MINNESOTA WILL
FACE BACKFIELD
TRIPLE THREATSROBERTS TO BE BACK IN THE
IOWA STATE
LINEUPTEAM DUE FRIDAY, HARD DRILL
BEING KEPT
UP

Ames, Ia., Nov. 7.—Iowa State College will have its speedy, ward-passing backfield in against the Gophers Saturday with Roberts, star triple threat man, the Behm brothers at the halves and Palm, full.

Bear stories that the Ames quartet would not perform against the Gophers appear to be unfounded for the quartet were in the batting last night.

With Roberts to skirt the ends, pass, kick the accurate forward pass grabbing, J. Behm and N. Behm, both also fast runners, and big Palm to line smash the Iowa State is confident of scoring. But the problem and chief worry here is how to check the savage line smashes off the tackles of Lidberg and Svutte.

It is expected that the Gopher line will have the edge over that of Iowa State.

Head Coach Sam Willman held a long hard practice on state field last night. Coach Hauser used the line on the bucking machine, sending them through 20 minutes' of hard charging practice against each other. He also worked the line in shifting in order to get them used to fast movement used in Minnesota shifting attacks.

Galbraith is still on sideline. Scrimmage was held with the Yearling team, the Varsity team carrying the ball on line smashes and close-end plays. Coach Willman used many men in the line—Symond for Capt. Schmidt, Rasmus for Larsen and Coe for Bond. He also used Greenlee, Sage and Shawhan at half, with Chuck Hill and Wingert at full and Ed. Hill at quarter.

Coach Willman expects Minnesota to use their weight advantage. Ames will not average over 175 pounds in the line and less than that in the backfield.

The Ames backfield is light, but makes up for weight by speed and versatile attack. Scrimmage was finished off with a short signal drill by the varsity, with the seconds running signals by the light of full moon till long after dark, making all possible preparations for the Minnesota game, expecting the heavier opponents to play a smashing game.—St. Paul Daily News.

WCCO TO BROADCAST
IOWA STATE FEATURES

Minneapolis, Nov. 7.—When Iowa State college comes to Minnesota Saturday to do battle with Minnesota at the new memorial stadium all the facilities of WCCO, Washburn-Crosby radio station, will be turned over to the Iowans. Aside from the broadcasting of the game, WCCO will put on a special Iowa program from 8:30 to 10:30 at night, putting out the Ames band of 84 pieces, talks by members of the team and alumni and other special features.

LITTLE FALLS
LOSES TO STAPLES

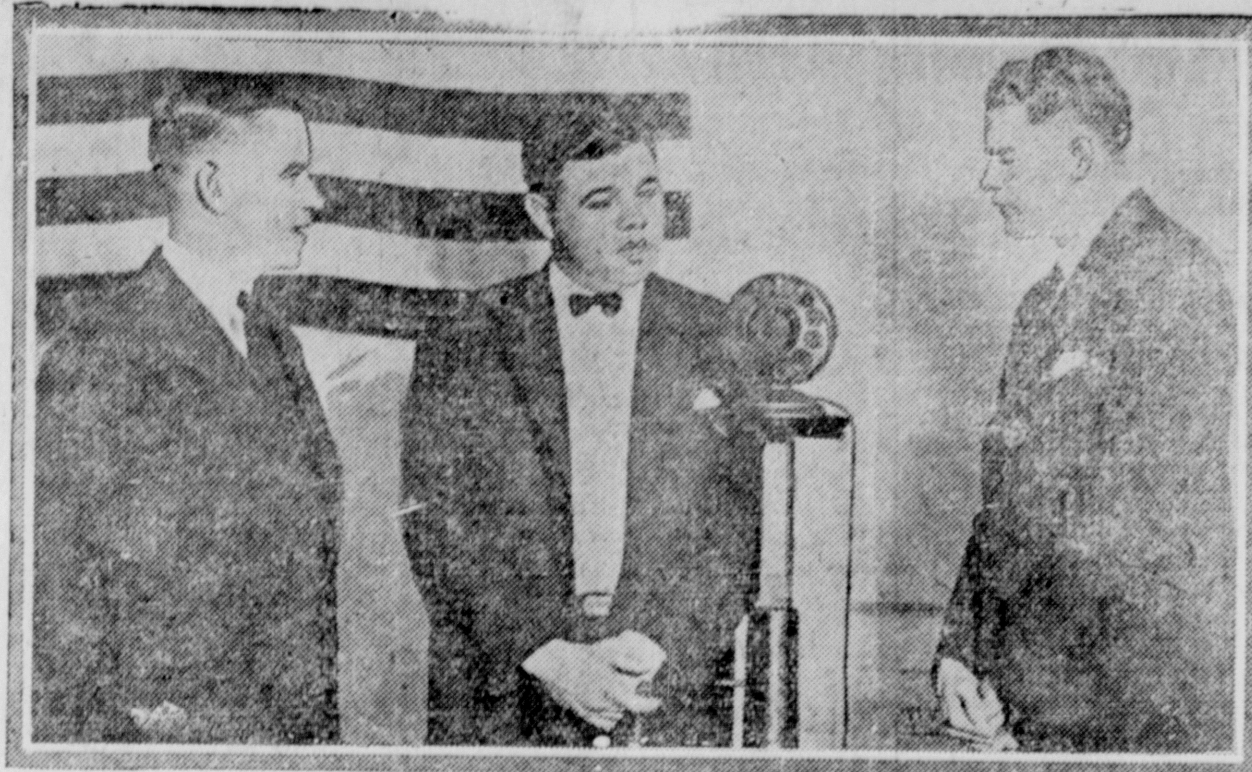

Another defeat was added to the already long list of the Little Falls high school football squad when the Staples aggregation annexed the only figures in a 13 to 0 score. Coach Helland's men again demonstrated that it takes them half a game to wake up. Both of the Staples scores came in the second quarter. In the last half Little Falls outplayed Staples but, like Minnesota in the Michigan game, failed to come across with the needed touchdowns when the opportunity presented itself.

Staples placed the ball on the Little Falls two yard line when time was called for the first period. On the reopening of play a line plunge took the ball over the goal for the railroader's first touchdown. The second score was made later in the game period on an end run. Little Falls several times in the last half worked the ball within scoring distance by line plunges only to lose it at a critical point on a fake play. Once the yellow and blue were within five yards of the Staples goal and with only the first down tried a fake play which cost the opportunity to score.

Fortier, in spite of his injured elbow, went into the game and gave a good account of himself. Schwintek who was booked to replace Portier when the plucky Little Falls player was considered out of the game, went in at the other end and proved himself of first team calibre.

The Little Falls backfield played a splendid game but there was little or no improvement evident in the line. The team failed to show up as well as it did at Staples a few weeks ago when it held Staples to a 10 to 7 score.

BUCKY HARRIS WAS
STARTED BY ERRORYouthful Manager of Nationals Answered Telegram Sent Brother.

Fate has shaped much of the career of Stanley Harris, youthful manager of Washington's first pennant winner.

A prank of fate gave him his start. Ever since, fate has watched over him, always in a most favorable manner.

Nine years ago Stanley Harris was playing second base for the Pittston (Pa.) team. Today he is the most talked-about figure in baseball.

Harris is more than a miracle man, he's the "miracle kid."

The story goes that Frank Brower of the Cleveland Indians gave Harris his start. Incidentally it was a brother of Stanley's that Brower had in mind.

Back in 1918 Brower was playing first base for Reading, Pa., in the International league. The club needed a second baseman badly.

Brower informed the club manager that he had played with a fellow by the name of Harris in the South and he looked like a good man.

It also happened that Brower did not remember the first name of the said Mr. Harris. The Reading club decided to take a chance and sent the following wire.

"Harris, Baseball Player, Pittston, Pa.: Can you report at once? Need a second baseman badly."

Now it happens the telegram was intended for Merle Harris, who at the time was playing in the West. The wire was received by his brother, Stanley.

Harris took the first train for Reading. Imagine Brower's surprise when the wrong Mr. Harris reported!

When acquainted with the facts in the case by the youthful Stanley, Brower decided it would be best to go through with it, although he had no confidence in the ability of Harris to make good his recommendation.

In the first game Harris fielded perfectly and in four trips to the plate he made a single, two doubles and scored the winning run.

Later Harris was traded to the Buffalo club of the same league. The

Scrimmage Practice at West Point

Here's a snappy tackle made during the scrimmage practice on the plains at West Point, where the military academy football candidates are working hard. Harry Ellinger, guard, is shown bringing down Schepps.

Washington club was tipped off that he was a good prospect. Griffith scouts reported favorably.

Not satisfied Griffith looked Harris over himself. The owner of the Nationals liked his style. After the game he learned that for several weeks Harris had been playing with a broken finger.

That fact caused Griffith to buy him. He liked the spirit. It is the spirit of Harris that has made Washington a pennant winner.

Fate and a fighting spirit have shaped the career of Stanley Harris—very successfully, too.

FIRST "BIG THREE" GAME; OTHERS LIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 7.—That well known calm that is supposed to precede the storm can be applied with a few exceptions to tomorrow's football schedule. On most of the college gridirons of the major loop the calm was invited to prepare for the most severe storm of the season that is forecast for Saturday week.

Wise schedule makers and good managers have made it a custom to get opponents that should not make it too hard for their charges on the Saturday preceding the most important games of the season and with the exception of such teams as Notre Dame, Penn State, Syracuse and Pittsburgh the custom is a fixed rule.

Compared to the hurricane that swept the gridirons all over the country last Saturday, tomorrow's schedule presents hardly more than a breeze. There are hardly more than a half-dozen out-and-out hard games on the schedule.

The opening of the "Big Three" games furnishes the fancy trimmings for the east and Notre Dame's break into "Big Ten" society is the most interesting event of the west.

Princeton goes to Cambridge for the first game of the "Big Three" with Harvard, a battle that offers the best possibilities of any contest on the eastern card. The "Big Three" certainly has no monopoly on good football and, to the contrary, it may be said that more of real football is known in the Western Conference. But it is certain that no other section of the country knows more about hard fighting among themselves than Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

All of the stars of the Yale eleven who can be spared will be in the stands to scout the two teams that will pounce upon them in the last two games on their schedule. Yale has scheduled Maryland again for the "breather," regardless of the fact that Maryland all but beat Yale last year when the best players of the Eli team were out scouting.

MINNESOTA WILL
FACE BACKFIELD
TRIPLE THREATSROBERTS TO BE BACK IN THE
IOWA STATE
LINEUPTEAM DUE FRIDAY, HARD DRILL
UP

Ames, Ia., Nov. 7.—Iowa State College will have its speedy, ward-passing backfield in against the Gophers Saturday with Roberts, star triple threat man, the Behm brothers at the halves and Palm, full.

Bear stories that the Ames quartet would not perform against the Gophers appear to be unfounded for the quartet were in the batting last night.

With Roberts to skirt the ends, pass, kick the accurate forward pass grabbing, J. Behm and N. Behm, both also fast runners, and big Palm to line smash the Iowa State is confident of scoring. But the problem and chief worry here is how to check the savage line smashes off the tackles of Lidberg and Svutte.

It is expected that the Gopher line will have the edge over that of Iowa State.

Head Coach Sam Willman held a long hard practice on state field last night. Coach Hauser used the line on the bucking machine, sending them through 20 minutes' of hard charging practice against each other. He also worked the line in shifting in order to get them used to fast movement used in Minnesota shifting attacks.

Galbraith is still on sideline. Scrimmage was held with the Yearling team, the Varsity team carrying the ball on line smashes and close-end plays. Coach Willman used many men in the line—Symond for Capt. Schmidt, Rasmus for Larsen and Coe for Bond. He also used Greenlee, Sage and Shawhan at half, with Chuck Hill and Wingert at full and Ed. Hill at quarter.

Coach Willman expects Minnesota to use their weight advantage. Ames will not average over 175 pounds in the line and less than that in the backfield.

The Ames backfield is light, but makes up for weight by speed and versatile attack. Scrimmage was finished off with a short signal drill by the varsity, with the seconds running signals by the light of full moon till long after dark, making all possible preparations for the Minnesota game, expecting the heavier opponents to play a smashing game.—St. Paul Daily News.

WCCO TO BROADCAST
IOWA STATE FEATURES

Minneapolis, Nov. 7.—When Iowa State college comes to Minnesota Saturday to do battle with Minnesota at the new memorial stadium all the facilities of WCCO, Washburn-Crosby radio station, will be turned over to the Iowans. Aside from the broadcasting of the game, WCCO will put on a special Iowa program from 8:30 to 10:30 at night, putting out the Ames band of 84 pieces, talks by members of the team and alumni and other special features.

LITTLE FALLS
LOSES TO STAPLES

Another defeat was added to the already long list of the Little Falls high school football squad when the Staples aggregation annexed the only figures in a 13 to 0 score. Coach Helland's men again demonstrated that it takes them half a game to wake up. Both of the Staples scores came in the second quarter. In the last half Little Falls outplayed Staples but, like Minnesota in the Michigan game, failed to come across with the needed touchdowns when the opportunity presented itself.

Staples placed the ball on the Little Falls two yard line when time was called for the first period. On the reopening of play a line plunge took the ball over the goal for the railroader's first touchdown. The second score was made later in the game period on an end run. Little Falls several times in the last half worked the ball within scoring distance by line plunges only to lose it at a critical point on a fake play. Once the yellow and blue were within five yards of the Staples goal and with only the first down tried a fake play which cost the opportunity to score.

Fortier, in spite of his injured elbow, went into the game and gave a good account of himself. Schwintek who was booked to replace Fortier when the plucky little player was considered out of the game, went in at the other end and proved himself of first team calibre.

The Little Falls backfield played a splendid game but there was little or no improvement evident in the line. The team failed to show up as well as it did at Staples a few weeks ago when it held Staples to a 10 to 7 score.

Blair was badly injured in the sec-

BUCKY HARRIS WAS
STARTED BY ERRORYouthful Manager of Nationals Answered Telegram Sent Brother.

Fate has shaped much of the career of Stanley Harris, youthful manager of Washington's first pennant winner. A prank of fate gave him his start. Ever since, fate has watched over him, always in a most favorable manner.

Nine years ago Stanley Harris was playing second base for the Pittston (Pa.) team. Today he is the most talked-about figure in baseball.

Harris is more than a miracle man, he's the "miracle kid."

The story goes that Frank Brower of the Cleveland Indians gave Harris his start. Incidentally it was a brother of Stanley's that Brower had in mind.

Back in 1918 Brower was playing first base for Reading, Pa., in the International league. The club needed a second baseman badly.

Brower informed the club manager that he had played with a fellow by the name of Harris in the South and he looked like a good man.

It also happened that Brower did not remember the first name of the said Mr. Harris. The Reading club decided to take a chance and sent the following wire.

"Harris, Baseball Player, Pittston, Pa.: Can you report at once? Need a second baseman badly."

Now it happens the telegram was intended for Merle Harris, who at the time was playing in the West. The wire was received by his brother, Stanley.

Harris took the first train for Reading. Imagine Brower's surprise when the wrong Mr. Harris reported! When acquainted with the facts in the case by the youthful Stanley, Brower decided it would be best to go through with it, although he had no confidence in the ability of Harris to make good his recommendation.

In the first game Harris fielded perfectly and in four trips to the plate he made a single, two doubles and scored the winning run.

Later Harris was traded to the Buffalo club of the same league. The

Scrimmage Practice at West Point

Here's a snappy tackle made during the scrimmage practice on the plains at West Point, where the military academy football candidates are working hard. Harry Ellinger, guard, is shown bringing down Schepps.

Washington club was tipped off that he was a good prospect. Griffith scouts reported favorably.

Not satisfied Griffith looked Harris over himself. The owner of the Nationals liked his style. After the game he learned that for several weeks Harris had been playing with a broken finger.

That fact caused Griffith to buy him. He liked the spirit. It is the spirit of Harris that has made Washington a pennant winner.

Fate and a fighting spirit have shaped the career of Stanley Harris—very successfully, too.
